“ He was Truly my Dearest friend. He always would be right there when he was needed. He loved building some of the most unique Homes in Florida. He worked very hard his entire life and always shared whatever he had. Life is going to be so different without him. I would call him regularly and it never failed he would be driving to another job site. It did not matter if it was 7:00 am or 11:00 pm. he was always on the go. I can truly say he made every minute count. He was never too busy to lend an ear, or help you solve a problem.

Len wasn't impressed with wealth, but appreciated the freedom and ability to help others it contains. He truly had a heart of gold. If he thought you were wrong, he would be honest; however, he never made you feel bad. I knew him most of my life and I wouldn't trade our friendship for anything.

A part of my heart is lost without him. No more road trip conversations, with getting disconnected several times as he drove in areas without cell service. He enjoyed helping people reach their full potential. He was an avid promoter of education. He helped and paid for others to get their education.

He traveled the world helping others less fortunate than himself. He saw that as his reward for all his hard work. He wouldn't do anything else. He lived life as he wanted, and what a wonderful man he was.

My dear friend I will surely miss you!

Finally, My Sincerest Sympathy to his family, I cannot imagine the degree of your loss.
