“ Sylvia was known to me as momma. She was a mother figure to me and I could not love her more for it. I was a stranger to her when we met. It was her daughter Georgia that I called sister. We met on the internet. Lol! Anyway I saved enough to fly to Florida to stay with my sister and while there I was introduced to Sylvia and Freddie Williams. Because of my closeness with Georgia calling each other sister, I was comfortable will calling Sylvia momma. From day one I was her daughter in her eyes too. This woman was maybe 90 lbs soaking wet, but she was a powerhouse and she loved her family intensely, including me. I never felt anything less then family to her. I will miss her terribly and pray she has found peace and is with God. Well I know she is with God, there is only angel wings waiting for her to claim in heaven now. Momma please watch over me and guide me as you will do for all those you loved here. I pray we meet again in paradise and have an adventure.
